To Whom It May Concern:

James Miller was employed at The British International School of Jeddah from 2004 until 2006, completing his two-year contract at our school.

Mr. Miller's primary teaching responsibility was KS3 art; however he also taught IGCSE Art and IB Diploma Art and gained his IGCSE Art Evaluator Certification while at our school. During his time with us he also taught History and Mathematics at KS3 level.

Mr. Miller was an enthusiastic and hardworking member of staff and was involved in several extracurricular activities. To aid those affected by Hurricane Katrina, Mr. Miller organized and hosted, a school wide fund raiser/talent show evening that was a great success.

He made use of IT in his teaching and his students illustrated and added their own illustrations to an iMovie project based on a short story of Mr. Miller's writing. Outside the class, he was involved in many activities, including set design for the school show. He also produced DVD's of school events.

Mr. Miller has a genuine interest in those around him and was always open to taking advice and acting on suggestions for improvement. He was a member of a professional development study group and was always looking for ways to become a better teacher.

After completing his teaching contract, he went on to join a school in Norway. Should you wish any further information, please contact me.

Yours sincerely

Helen Mack
